PROPOSAL FOR STAGING THE
XIV WORLD FORESTRY CONGRESS, 2015
IN NEW DELHI, INDIA
India - A Bouquet of Holistic Forestry

- India ranks 10th in the list of most forested nations in the world.

- Country’s Forest & Tree cover is 76.87 million ha which accounts for 23.4% of its Geographical area.

- Forests are responsible for India’s rich biodiversity- India is one of the 12 “megadiverse” countries of the world.

- A significant feature of Indian Forestry is its orientation towards deliverance of critical ecosystem, goods & services & vision of forests as also source of sustainable livelihoods to almost 200 million people of the country.

- India has a great tradition of Institutionalized Scientific Forest Management dating back more than 140 years.
STRONG LINEAGE OF FORESTRY MANAGEMENT & RESEARCH:

The Indian Forests have great variety and include – Tropical Evergreen Rainforests, Moist & Dry Deciduous Tropical Forests, Temperate Forests, Coastal Forests as well as variety of Grasslands and Wetlands apart from manmade plantations.

The Forests in the country are managed through joint efforts of Central as well as State Governments with the beacon light being the National Forest Policy.

The Country has a unique system of All India Service Officers, recruited & trained by the Central Govt. and posted with the State Govts. so as to ensure coherence between National Policies and the State Govt. approaches for the Forestry sector.

Similarly at the National Level, the Forestry Research is coordinated by the Indian Council of Forestry Research & Education. (ICFRE)

The ICFRE has nation wide footprint through its eight Research Institutes.
STRONG BASE IN WILDLIFE CONSERVATION

- India has 4.83% of its Forest areas exclusively dedicated to the Species conservation through a network of 658 protected areas with Scientific Management

- Strong Research base in Biodiversity conservation with World renowned “Wildlife Institute of India”.

- Human dimensions in Wildlife Conservation – Country has inclusive approach involving communities through participatory models.
INDIA: A PERFECT DESTINATION
INDIA: JOURNEY OF A LIFETIME

India - Land of sages, history of ages. India is not just one of the world's oldest civilization, it is also the world's largest democracy, and has made amazing progress in the recent years. Very few places in the world have such a fantastic combination of the old and the new, where traditional concepts and microchips survive amicably.

India is one of the world's most fascinating countries for any meeting, incentive programme, conference or exhibition, conveniently accessible for national and international delegates. Holding an event in India offers a competent range of conference technology, sophisticated accommodation and dining services, and a varied range of exotic locations for pre and post tours.

The country offers picturesque mountains, quiet & serene valleys, dry & hot deserts, exotic beaches, meandering rivers, silent ageless monuments, extensively carved temples and much more. Amidst the countless ways that India can capture world attention as a tourist paradise, there also exist business opportunities arising out of the one of the biggest population base in a rapidly developing country.
