

Bamboo - Haven House for Sparrow

When a new residential colony was built in my native place, Durg, Chhattisgarh, my father invested for a house in Rishab Green City. During summer vacation I visited there and planted two bamboo clumps in the central park. My mom cared those plants and after 5 years wonderful achievement , uncountable house sparrows came and yellow bamboo plant converted into paradise. We had lost them many years back .

I have its video, wanted to share but it has been not provisioned. Attached photograph has been taken from video so it is not much clear.
